

ROBISCHON

And out here in the West they do punch cattle. Some of them do on Broncs and, even as you can see, some of them do on the lowly Jack Robb.

i can't believe i drove all night to get here and then had way too much vodka with this guy i met as i was checking into my motel. we made a date to meet up at the big croquet tournament later this afternoon and maybe dinner later, but i really think i should pass. it was fairly obvious he just wanted to get into my pants. then again...
